ADMINISTRATION

Through leadership and guidance for students in their search for knowledge . . . through example which inspires . . . through friendships with many students . . . these aid all who wish to learn a profession and find success in life.

M. C. V.'s PRESIDENT

ROBERT BLACKWELL SMITH, JR., Ph.D.

President

The Medical College of Virginia owes much to the leadership of Dr. R. Blackwell Smith, Jr., its fourth president. An alumnus of M. C. V. and a pharmacologist by profession, Dr. Smith has held several governmental positions and has served as Dean of the School of Pharmacy. As evidenced by the number of professional, scientific, and honorary organizations in which he is active, his well-rounded social and professional life makes him a valuable citizen as well as an able educator and a progressive leader.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

TO OUR 1960 GRADUATES:

One of the great satisfactions accruing to a college president is that of observing from year to year the successful completion of an important chapter in the education of the young men and women who compose the graduating classes.

Your enthusiasm for learning, your accomplishments, and your well-founded ambitions for the future are contagious. The administration and the faculty share in the joy of your graduation and join in the hope that the manner in which you apply the knowledge thus far attained in your further studies and in the discharge of the duties of your profession will bring you the life-long satisfaction and contentment that only accompany a job well done.

The Medical College of Virginia is proud that it has had the opportunity of providing the scholars, the laboratories and the other physical facilities essential to your education here. They represent a tremendous investment on the part of the taxpayers of Virginia and generous friends and alumni of this institution, all of whom have the utmost faith in your capacity to render the kind of service that will enhance respect for your profession and each of you who labors in behalf of human betterment.

We wish you Godspeed.

R. Blackwell Smith, Jr.,
President

Dr. Wyndham Bolling Blanton

Dr. Blanton was born in Richmond on June 3, 1890. His education included an A.B., Hampden-Sydney, 1910; M.A., University of Virginia, 1912; M.D., College of Physicians and Surgeons, 1916. He served with the Army in World War I and after graduate work in New York, Berlin, and Edinburgh, entered the practice of internal medicine in Richmond in 1920.

He was appointed to the MCV faculty in that same year. He became Professor of Clinical Medicine in 1940 and was made Emeritus Professor of Medicine in 1958. He also held appointment as Professor of History of Medicine from 1933 to 1938.

Dr. Blanton's outstanding contributions as a physician and teacher were compared with achievement as historian, author, and civic benefactor. In addition to membership in many medical organizations, including fellowship in the American College of Physicians, he was chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Union Theological Seminary and President of the Virginia Historical Society. He died January 6, 1960.

Dr. E. Tribble Gatewood

Dr. Gatewood was born in James City County December 7, 1887. He was awarded the M.D. degree at the Medical College of Virginia in 1910. After internship he entered general practice before returning to New York to specialize in otolaryngology. After completing his New York residency he took bronchoscopy training at the University of Pennsylvania under Chevalier Jackson and later attended the Haslinger Clinic in Vienna.

He joined the MCV faculty in 1920, became Professor of Clinical Otolaryngology and Laryngology in 1944, and was made Emeritus Professor in 1958.

Dr. Gatewood was highly regarded in the community as a physician and citizen. His many medical society affiliations included fellowship in the American College of Surgeons and membership in the American Laryngological Society, a senior national society of limited membership. He died January 5, 1960.

In Memoriam

Dr. Porter P. Vinson

Dr. Vinson was born in Davidson, N. C., January 24, 1890. His academic attainments included a B.S. 1909; M.A., 1910; and D.Sc. 1925, all at Davidson College; M.D., University of Maryland Medical School, 1914. His internship and residency were accomplished at Trudeau Sanatorium, Montreal General Hospital, and the Mayo Clinic, the latter interrupted by service in World War I.

After twenty years as Chief of Bronchoscopy at the Mayo Clinic, Dr. Vinson came to Richmond in 1936 to head this service as a Professor of Medicine at the Medical College of Virginia until his death August 28, 1959.

His great energy, professional competence, and dedication to the College made him a real factor in its development over the past twenty-three years. Many appearances before medical groups and more than one hundred published papers account for widespread recognition of Dr. Vinson's part in the development of the specialty of endoscopy. He was a Fellow of the American College of Physicians.

Dr. Atwood M. Wash

Professor and Chairman of the Department of Oral Surgery

Atwood M. Wash, D.D.S., F.A.C.D., a distinguished alumnus, served on the faculty of the School of Dentistry since his graduation in 1919 until his untimely death, February 27, 1960. He will be remembered by students for his teaching skill, his modesty and patience of understanding. His faculty associates will hold in fond recollection his great warmth of friendship and profound wisdom.

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE

DR. WILLIAM KAY

The Student Health Service of the Medical College of Virginia provides medical care for all students. At some time, almost all of the students seek the help of Dr. William Kay, student health physician, and Miss Edith West, student health nurse. Services provided by this department include immunizations, x-rays, treatment of medical problems when they arise, and hospitalization when necessary.

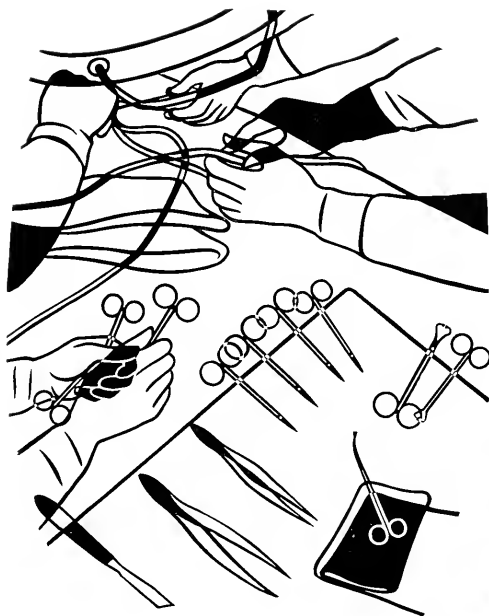

MISS EDITH WEST, R.N.

MRS. EUGENIA LEE

MEDICINE

The disciplined mind . . . the skilled hand . . .
the confident manner of those who know what they do is noble and right; these men and women strive unendingly in the struggle to conserve life by relieving man of physical, mental, and spiritual disease and deformity.

DEDICATION

JONAH LUPTON LARRICK, A.B.

Retired Student Counsellor

Retired Executive Secretary of Y.M.C.A., Richmond

We, the Medicine Class of 1960, dedicate our portion of the annual to Mr. Jonah Lupton Larrick with deep appreciation for his thirty-six years of service to the community and the students, and for his untiring efforts to further the Medical College of Virginia.

Somewhat as a traveler who has at last reached the summit of a distant mountain and pauses to look back over the path he has taken, we too now pause to look back over the four years that have passed.

We have worked long hours since that day in 1956 when we first assembled. At that time the distant mountain was far away, but as we passed each obstacle the way seemed a little easier. We thank those who have made this so.

Now we look again, not back over the way we have walked, but out, over the path we have yet to travel. And in the distance there is another mountain with its peak a little higher. Another mountain with its peak a little higher. Another mountain yet to climb. The path to the summit is not smooth. It is the path that all of us take in paying man's debt to man. We hope, that on becoming members of the medical profession we can all pay this debt.

And as Doctors of Medicine we hope that each and every day, after our last patient has been seen, we can tell ourselves, "Today, I served my profession well."

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

We the class of '61 descended a hundred strong confidently and smoothly from the lofty peaks of basic science into the clinical jungle fortified by the knowledge that our Betz cells were charged to full tilt and our medical armory packed tightly with weapons to combat the ills of man. This was our third year in the long safari. It started in McGuire Hall and is to end happily on that coveted platform in the Mosque. Along the way we have had many strange adventures. In the first two years we had successfully navigated the precarious waters of the alimentary canal from the vermilion border at one end to the valves of ball at the other. We had encountered the famous Diphyllobothrium latum and his bosom pal, Cystic Mastitis. We mastered the genitourinary tract and were almost run down by a hydrocele. Even with this diversity of experience during the first two years, we were pleased to find that the third was no prairie of boredom, but a challenge in its own right.

We soon realized that exposure to odd information and to odd people had not ended. In psychiatry we were told, soberly, that the head is not filled with cotton. Since we had spent many precious nights during neuroanatomy memorizing to the letter just what it was filled with, this came as no surprise. We wandered on into surgery clinics to find a disciple of Florence Nightingale who could talk to her sister in Chicago—without a telephone. In the field of urology we discovered the interesting and alarming fact that with a 46 French sound one could send a man to London—without an airplane. In ENT most of us mastered the devilish device called a head mirror. One poor fellow reversed his apparatus and toasted his fundus. He recovered. Ophthalmology with its exophorias and esotropias held us spellbound. We shall never erase the image of that twisted smile on the patient's face after we finished examining the retina of his artificial eye. In pediatrics we met a two year old who had been taught successfully to give the anatomical names for the various parts of the body. He handled patellar and umbilicus quite well, but went to pieces with flexor digiti quinti brevis. We labored on to O.B. to find in contrast to Shakespeare that, "a rose does not smell as sweet by any other name." And, we learned the first twelve bars to "rectoceles" and "cystoceles" and "little lambs eat ivy."

Our third year ended in medicine where we deftly punched the four-fingered liver of a W.C.T.U. ward chairman and listened for hours for the grade  $\frac{1}{4}$  murmurs and for the pearls of medical wisdom as they dropped softly on the hospital corridors. Then we returned again to listen to irritable people telling of their irritable colons and proud people boasting, to the quart, just how much their paracentesis produced the day before.

Our class and its safari will be remembered for many things, but three stand out above all others:

1. We were the very first to withstand the onslaught of the amalgamated and combined lectures which filled Ben Johnson Auditorium each morning with much smoke and our notebooks with a grand total of 24.7 kilograms of mimeograph paper.
2. We shall be remembered for the annual mid-winter frolics and its awards which honored every quality from fertility to obscenity.
3. And lastly, we shall be remembered for having established a standing reward for any information which might solve the mystery of "The Strange Case of the Evasive Calvarium."

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

The Class of 1962 has just shovelled its way through a year which brought autopsies, venipunctures and 75% of the lectures given by the students. Looking through the retrospectroscope, there were a few highlights in all the scramble. "Mr. Kuykendall, we assume you don't know anything about cooking . . ."; the contagious enthusiasm of the Pharmacology Department; Postum for breakfast; the verbal diarrhea during the Clinical Pathology tests;—"Does P.A. mean periarthritis nodosa or paralysis agitans?"; Dr. Reid's advice on life and related subjects, "Gentlemen, you should know by now that any female makes a strange noise when squeezed . . ."; Is there anyone in the sophomore class who doesn't know the weight of the thyroid gland?—"And here we have a well-trained, tranquilized rat. Watch what happens when I turn on the current. . . ."

Somehow the class managed to keep busy trying to pass those pop quizzes in Community Medicine and booking odds on how long it would take Dr. Senescu to get hopelessly tangled in his microphone cord.

Spring vacation finally came and with it an experience new to the School of Medicine. Most of the sophomore class left on April 13 by train and spent three unforgettable days in Chicago touring the Abbott plant and other famous laboratories such as the Asiatic Club and the Black Knight.

When confronted next year by the mountain of information which we've either forgotten or never learned, we can always fall back on that old philosophy—"It's better to travel hopelessly than to arrive."

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

The class of 1963 was endowed with a new laboratory, the questionable conveniences of a dorm, and a 40 hour working day. With these facilities at our command, great achievements in the academic field were expected of us. Yet it seems, to date, that most of us have done those things that we ought not to have done and left undone those things that we ought to have done—and there is little knowledge in us. We paid the price for this slothfulness, however, and have since been the carriers of various and sundry misnomers simply because we could not distinguish the make and year of the automobiles on East Main from our vantage point, the histology lab.

Finally, after three long months of travail, we were given the opportunity to express our pent up desires, and in December retaliated admirably giving out some frightfully useful gifts at the Christmas party. Still we found it hard to forget our all too intimate association with that malignancy known as spasticity; and if you did not have it, there were always those who did—those to your right and those to your left. Like Doctor Hegre's puppy, most of us stood vulnerable to the stimulus of a foot driven heavily to the floor.

Nevertheless, despite the trials and tribulations that confronted us in the Anatomy Department, it was with reluctance and nostalgia that we moved on to Biochemistry where even greater deeds were expected of some eighty weary computers. It is said that defeat builds character. That being the case, the character of our company must have been unequalled.

Yet through it all there was the awareness of a great debt—not only to those who encouraged us by way of word, but to those who actually prodded us on, reminding us that there would be sleeping enough in the grave. With such helpful tidbits as these, a little bit of luck, and a good pair of scolding pads, the majority of the class will inevitably make it through the first year—and possibly the three remaining.

MEMO

It may be of interest to note in this esteemed annual the curious series of episodes which has led to the due departure of the Class of 1960, and which, curious enough, has not appreciably retarded the progress of this institution.

The afore mentioned aggregate of individuals, a group most proficient in the promulgation of their promiscuous professional attainments, had the distinction of conceiving from within the depths of their "deplorable" laboratory, the rather prodigious W. F. Wine award for attainments in the field of proleptical prosthodontia. The superlative dentigerous endowments of these students will be long remembered. The resonant roar of air rotors, the wisps of smoke threading their way celestial from smouldering burlew discs, the diligent endeavors to "confine attentions to the immediate field of operations"; and the "almost always never absent" atmosphere of wholesaling are all but a small part of the epoch accomplishments of these clinical Titans.

Richmond society shall shriek with despair over the loss of these metoric and distinguished apogees of culture. The quiet grace with which Jones has so often uncorked the most aromatic and rarest of vintages, and the semasiological sonnets of Godwin will, without question, become legend.

As we reflect upon their achievements objectively and consider their record reflectively, we shall never know whether to laugh or cry. One eye will remain wet and the other dry.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

With three years behind us there is but one more between us and a strange world that awaits with neither cards to be checked nor professors to shoulder responsibility. How has this past year added to the foundation of our dental experience?

Surely, few will deny that the bulk of our learning stemmed from the clinic with its opportunity for first-hand application of principles. Thus, the summer clinic months paved the way for a smoother and more beneficial Junior year.

Lectures were considerably more informal and informative, dental-wise. Credit must be given at this time to a man who succeeded in performing the heretofore unheard of feat of getting our class to cram at 8 A.M. two to three times a week. Without using nicknames we shall remember him by his immortal words "place, press, pump, pull."

This was a year of seeming prosperity for most of our class. Few missed the opportunity of being Medicine Man for either M.C.V. or Richmond Memorial Hospital. The experience we gained was invaluable.

New cars began to show up, and one, completely smothered by wealth, bought a Jaguar.

The Christmas holidays were enhanced by a party given by the Bachelors of Westwood, the last stronghold, thus avoiding a show of hands for a class party which would surely have been defeated. They have my vote for holding all future class parties, if and when they occur.

In the Spring came the scramble for Senior Survey Charts. When Senior requirements start to go you know the end is near. We began assuming the duties of the services as the graduating class stepped down to ready themselves for reward of four years of toil, sweat, and money.

Now we've come to that fourth and final year. The complexity and red tape attached to Clinic rules are understood and accepted. One year remains for us to master the fundamentals of Dentistry. Let's make the most of it!

By the way, did we ever find out who was taking his laboratory work home?

When we returned to school in the fall of 'fifty-nine, the feeling of not knowing what to expect had been erased by experience and confidence gained during the previous year. We had a brief preview of sophomore life during our last years associations and felt the year would be somewhat easier.

The year began with four consecutive weeks of fraternity rush parties which not only strengthened social ties but set a rather early record for being behind academically. Dormitory life in Bear Hall remained the same.

Some of the old faces weren't there any longer since wedding bells were sounded in honor of many. However, the bewildered faces of freshmen were present on all floors and it was our job to console and comfort. A feeling of unity has developed in our class as we get to know one another better.

Spring and Summer will give us our first experiences in clinical dentistry. We all have misgivings, and are a little uneasy that we will not be able to put our laboratory experiences to the best clinical use.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

Someday you may be asked, "What do you remember about the year 1959-1960?" You might even turn to this very page in this very book to refresh your mind's eye; because, neurons do degenerate, and the brain does dehydrate, and the memory grows dim. Even now, when engrams are newly impressed, many small details are lost and much history thus drops into oblivion.

Once a sage Solomon said, "There is no remembrance of former things; neither shall there be any remembrance of things that are to come with those that shall come after." This historical pessimism may have arisen from the lack of oral care, work, or service. This fact notwithstanding, he continued with, "To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven." Our primary professional year was marked by specific seasons also.

"A time to rend, and a time to sew."

It seemed that we were immediately met by an abundance of rending and cutting in gross anatomy. We soon "got it" and learned to heed the words of wisdom as if they came from Solomon himself. Many of us were certain that the alar fascia was a misnomer. It could have been more distinguishedly named for its discoverer. Except for name tags on lab jackets, we personally did little sewing. The sanguine film on radical dissection had enough stitches to last the entire year.

"A time to weep, and a time to laugh."

Neuroanatomy gave cause for much weeping. Tears flowed freely after the first practical, when many found that what had looked like a plaster egg really was a plaster egg. After the fiasco that was the second practical, the professor graciously demonstrated with his black-board pointer why it was all necessary. The arrowhead, it seems, was gone and nothing but the shaft was left. Still other lacrimal glands were stimulated over the necessity of buying substage lamps, extra notes, and, the crowning blow, a set of plastic ears. Saline solution crept down colored pencils and splashed on hypothalamus drawings that meant nothing until the social chairman added the green dot of the brachial plexus.

Not tears though, but laughter was the chief characteristic of our class. Many lectures were memorable in this respect. One had to do with the loss of a dental appliance (obj.) down the digestive track or the respiratory system. Depending upon which track it entered, it could be retrieved in lair shape and used again. For some reason the Tasmanian Wombat, African Warthog, or Aardvark elicited a laugh at almost anytime. With great humor the dean of oral anatomy could deliver a lecture on the mesial surface of the second mandibular premolar, or relate the story of a student being thrown into a lake. Most of us achieve immense enjoyment from seeing who won the race to biochemistry.

"A time to kill, and a time to heal."

The conclusion of the whole matter of this primary year is this: By our presence in this class, idealistically speaking, we have professed to our hope of healing man. Let us kill all baser motives and make the rest of our years a history of healing.

Precision . . . accuracy . . . skill—These are the qualities of the pharmacist as he computes and compounds drugs. With the help of the medications he knows and for which he is continuing to search, lives are prolonged and saved.

DEDICATION

J. DOYLE SMITH, PH.D.
Associate Professor of Chemistry

We remember with respect and admiration—for kindness and patience—for quiet humor—for encouragement in learning—for honest answers to so many questions — for sympathy with the student — we affectionately dedicate our section to Dr. J. Doyle Smith.

According to Mr. Webster of dictionary fame, the term "tour de force" means a feat of strength or skill. We, the senior class, would like to think of our four years in Pharmacy school as such. (Dean Weaver and Faculty, take note that we mean it in a joking way!) We have exercised much of our own mental faculties and hope that we have not disturbed those of the Faculty too often. It was no mean mental feat to memorize Mr. Pitts' beloved theory, The Bohr-Sommerfeld, or to understand what Dr. Hughes meant by "Ontology recapitulates. . . ?" *Not only does it require mental strength to learn and pass quizzes, but also much physical endurance to sit and listen to those four hours of lecture on Mondays, from nine to one. Right much of that "stuff" known to all good Physics students as  $E = mc^2$  was expanded in climbing the steps from the Senior Auditorium to the fourth floor labs.

These past four years have not been unlike to a voluntary "hitch" in the service. We have had our period of basic training in the Sciences and a little of the Humanities. It was reminiscent of an obstacle course, and it would not be wrong to say that Pharmacology and "Quant" were very good obstacles for some. No forced hike is quite as tough as the walk from the parking lot to a Monday morning class, especially if it is raining and the class is at eight o'clock. No longer will we stand the midnight sentry duty, hoping that we can remember the right passwords for the morning's exam.

We are living proof of Darwin's theory that only the "fit" survive. We have progressed from the days as Freshmen who hid an alarm clock in the waste paper receptor as a gentle (?) reminder that classes were over at ten minutes to the hour. But we still have the instinct of self-preservation as evidenced by our latest attempt to keep up with Dr. Hartung and his lightning drawing of structures on the blackboard.

In spite of the maze of exams and lab practicals and the course known as Hospital, we can still "tink and vishulize" the last exercise, Commencement Exercises.

* For those who do not recall the phrase, it is "Ontogeny recapitulates Phylogeny."

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

So this was the "easy" year we heard about as sophomores. I guess we all received quite a surprise during the initial weeks of first quarter.

This was the year when three quizzes were given in one week in the same subject and when our hour quizzes in all subjects just seemed to fall in the same week.

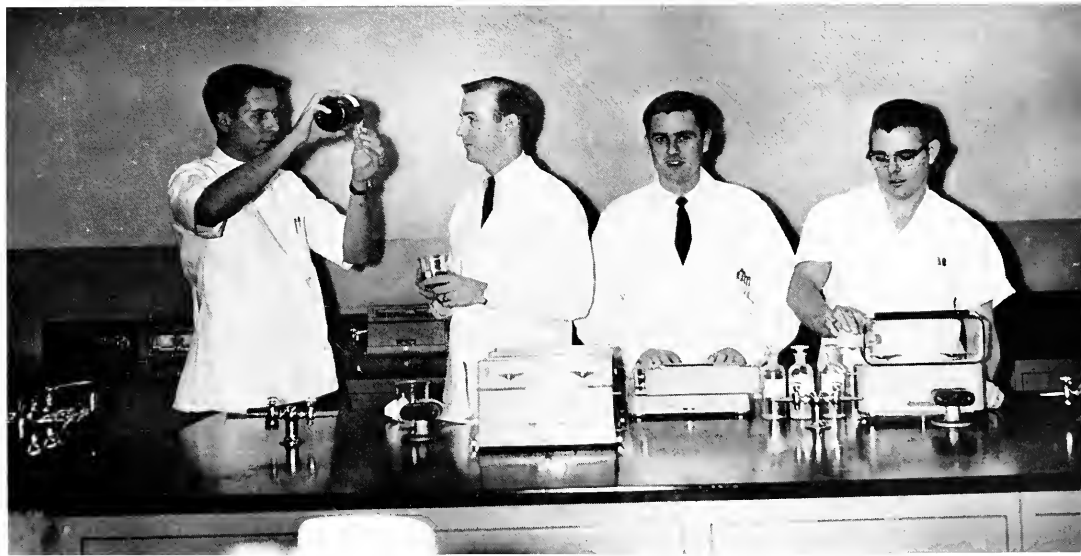

In the future, few of us will remember the complex structure of volatile oils or anthraquinone glycosides in pharmacognosy; the percent alcohol of the myriad of Galentical tinctures, fluidextracts and the like; or the titration curves in Quant. Conversely, few will quickly forget the anxious moments of waiting for the return of Quant. lab books; the Galentical hour quiz no one could finish; the demerit system and "where is your towel?" in Galentical lab.

Somehow we did manage to squeeze into our busy schedule some social life and the memories of fraternities and good parties will long remain with us.

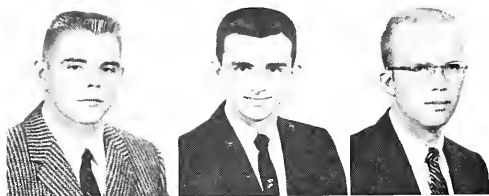

As we look back on what seems to have been three long years we realize that they have passed very rapidly, and soon we will take the big step into the long awaited senior year.

By now our confidence has increased and our laboratory technique has developed; thus, we look forward to the senior year with faith and ambition and readiness to uphold our principles and to practice the knowledge we have previously gained.

We entered our second year in the School of Pharmacy with many fears and apprehensions, most of them incurred from the upper-classmen. Much to our deep regret most of them were all too true. After our first week of classes we stayed behind scholastically and every other way. A Sophomore was easily recognized by his blood-shot eyes (believe it or not this was from lack of sleep) and his worried, haggard look. Our worries came from many different things such as: trying not to blow ourselves up in organic lab., developing speed in writing for inorganic class, deciphering what few notes we managed to take in econ. class, and straining our eyes to see the slides in pharmacy math. In our spare moments, and we do mean spare, we studied our lighter subjects—Physics, English, and American Pharmacy.

However, we did manage to have a few good times along the way. There were some great fraternity parties, dances, class parties, and if nothing else a few good antics in the dorm. Of course, the highlight of the social season was the pledging of the fraternities.

At the end of the year we found some had faltered and left our ranks, but most of us only were older and wiser for our ordeal. We are now upper-classmen with our goal more clearly in view—that of the practice of pharmacy.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

With a strong desire to better ourselves and our fellow man, the freshman class has traveled a long way since its first confusing day at M.C.V.

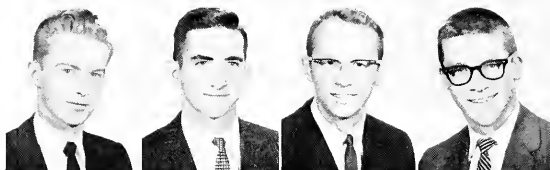

We can remember a lot of things from the not distant past. Most of them involve those long awaited holidays. We can remember the "Modern Ionic Theory", crossing of the chromosomes, the frantic search for information for our pharmacy term paper, 8:30 algebra classes on Saturday mornings, and last but not least the life in our new dorm.

The road ahead will be tougher. We should pause awhile and realize our value to our community. We are men and women of a challenging profession, and we will find it well worth our efforts.

NURSING

The knowledge and skill in science and in human relations which strikes a heavy blow in man's fight for health and life . . . her presence and her ability makes the execution of the physician's orders possible . . . her primary goal—the best possible care for all people who are entrusted to her.

DEDICATION

With love and gratitude for the material things they have sacrificed for us, for the encouragement they have given us and the confidence they have in us, and for the prayers they have offered for us; we, the graduating class of 1960, sincerely dedicate this portion of The X-Ray to==Our Parents.

Admission note

Sept. 1956

HPI

The majority of these young, well-nourished, well developed females were admitted to the institution in September, 1956. Their chief complaint was a desire "to become nurses". This symptom was manifested to a greater or lesser degree in all of these girls. In some cases this symptom had an insidious onset precipitated by playing doctor-nurse or by reading Clara Barton — Civil War Nurse. Others had been in usual state of health when the symptom was first noticed. None had experienced complete relief by belonging to Future Nurses' Clubs or by being hospital aides.

Phys. Exam.

Essentially negative. Reveals a group WN WD young women in no apparent distress.

HEENT

Few heads filled with delusions concerning "saving humanity". Most eyes eager to observe; ears willing to listen.

Chest

Negative except for occasional episode of tachycardia at the thoughts of male students in the institution.

Abd.

Negative. Tremendous capacity for consuming food, soon to become diminished in Cabaniss Hall Cafeteria.

Extremities

Fingers, lily-white, soon to become red and rough from "cleaning" and frequent washings in sepiisol. Feet, soon to become calloused and several sizes larger from treading the hallowed halls of the institution.

Impression:

Young women troubled by desire to become nurses.

R.O.

1. Desire to get married
2. Desire to have economic security
3. Desire to have social prestige

Recommend

1. Admit to nursing service
2. Subject to full four-year course of treatment.

Discharge note

June, 1960

Twenty-nine young women discharged from institution on June 5, 1960 in definitely improved condition. Have grown smaller in number for various reasons. Some found the treatment to be worse than the disease and left without medical advice. Others were found to be beyond help and were discharged with little treatment. Some were found to possess the symptom of desire "to get married", and this symptom grew to such great proportions that the original symptom became secondary.

Treatment during the four years consisted of large original doses of theory, then gradually decreasing maintenance doses for the remainder of the course; small doses of hospital experience increasing gradually as tolerated by the group; tremendous exposure to supervision; occasional diversional activities and change of environment pm, such as library.

The group who so proudly walked out of the institution, pronounced "cured", found the treatment, although difficult, well worth the results. The original complaint, "to become nurses", had abated; but another symptom, "to be nurses", had replaced it. However, the class of 1960 knows how to relieve this feeling and many of them plan to, by continuing to improve their knowledge and skills as they practice their profession.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Vacation days were memories as thirty-seven new juniors reported in all white uniform, including cap, for various services. All the problems of learning to be a nurse were behind us, we thought. Could there be anything else to learn after that sophomore year? Little did we know the trials and tribulations of our junior year.

Hands were cold and shaking, and knees were knocking together as we reported to each new service. Some of us even resorted to defense mechanisms such as headaches and nausea. The most comforting thought during this time was, "Others have done it—maybe I can, too." We became proficient in many skills vital to the survival of the nurse—how to calm down a ward full of hysterical children while feeding one baby, changing another, and assuring the parents that they would live through their child's illness. We learned the art of tactfully handling international relations and preventing them p. r. n., that a scrub nurse isn't always a cleaning woman, and that contractions are often confused with contraptions.

Thanksgiving came, and after a few glorious days off, we changed services. Of course, we were all pre-occupied with the thought that Christmas holidays were just around the corner. That meant more sleep. The annual Christmas dance came along then, too. This was a festive occasion for all.

Christmas brought DIAMONDS and dreams of the future—primarily practicing Marriage and the Family. We returned to school with just a little more zeal than we had when we left.

Problems arose concerning money, plans for the Junior-Senior Luncheon, and caps. We finally learned by the end of the year how to set them up properly.

Spring came along and so did the inevitable Spring Fever. In the Spring a young nurse's fancy turns to thoughts of vacation—what else? When shall we take it? What shall we do? Studying was harder—sleeping was easier. We lived through it, but our little brains were slowly becoming worn out. We bid Godspeed to the seniors as we honored them at the biggest event of the year—the Junior-Senior Luncheon.

Now we set out where the seniors started this time last year. Our main goals—to get our black bands and to be graduate nurses. We are the class of 1961, and are ready, willing, and able to prove that we are capable graduates of MCV.

Last year's freshmen were admitted to the Sophomore Year a little weak in the knees, but otherwise were in fairly good condition. Despite this they were sent into the hospital and put under close observation. The Associate Sophomores were sent to such departments as pediatrics, obstetrics, and psychiatry, and some even went to the operating room. Then there were the Baccalaureate Sophomores who were put on the stall floors. Just as had been expected, other symptoms appeared. They complained of feelings of inadequacy and ignorance; the instructors recorded the same. At times they became quite discouraged, especially when told that they might remain indefinitely, but all the girls—at least outwardly—adjusted beautifully to the idea of their fate. Attention was paid to diversional activities and many books were provided for them to enjoy. Effort was made to keep them active so as not to develop pneumonia, phlebitis, renal calculi, and decubitus ulcers. They were taught thoroughly the art of coughing and deep breathing. None of them needed to be coaxed to drink plenty of liquids. All seemed to be progressing nicely until tests were given them which revealed other undesirable symptoms such as loss of memory, the tendency to give up too easily, and lack of interest in anything involving much effort. The importance of overcoming these things was impressed upon them. Problems of old age arose and signs of mental deterioration showed up among members of the class. As their condition improved they were given the chance to observe the plight of patients around them. It was interesting and educational but not particularly stimulating to their morale since they observed the same symptoms in themselves. It was surprising how many fatal diseases each sophomore claimed at one time, and much more startling was the fact that the mortality rate was so low.

Months went by and all that was seen by the Sophomores was bedpans, hypodermic needles, suction machines, IV standards, Levin tubes, stretchers, and instructors, to name only a few. Books were still being read diligently into the wee hours of the morning and the constitution of each girl was supported by large doses of caffeine among other things. Some of the Sophomores were allowed to leave the hospital in June after it had been decided that all the teaching that could be done had been done. The ones who remained were happy for them, of course, and began longing for the day of their own discharge. When the warm days and nights of summer rolled around they began to get restless and felt that it must be about time for them to leave. Orders left for them specified that the month of August would be spent in another environment, that maybe all that they actually needed was a temporary change of climate. So, all the remaining Sophomores left MCV hospital still a little weak in the knees, but otherwise in fairly good condition.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

Overflowing with the vigor, enthusiasm, and anticipation which only aspirant young nurses seem to possess, the freshman class of the Medical College of Virginia, School of Nursing, embarked upon her challenging new life. The day was September 8, 1959; the spirit was immortal.

In the first week of orientation, the attractive throng of ninety-eight baccalaureate and associate degree students was bombarded by an impressive number of teas, receptions, introductions, and advisory counsels. Flushing with over-activity, the glorious freshman class dressed, redressed, and changed dress with fierce purpose to fit every occasion, even condescending to sport sports clothes for the ordeal of a bus tour.

An entirely new civilization was introduced in the personage of a dignified board of trustees, assortment of variously impressive professors, sparkingly youthful clergy, much too charming male students, and a company of female-type dormitory residents, eager to share their personalities, dreams, and talents with each other. As a matter of fact, they got to know each other pretty well—so well that they often sacrificed "precious study time" for the recapitulation of old loves, the expressing of exasperation with newly-earned grades, present loves, free discussion of the faculty, future loves, etc.

A stalwart group of leaders was elected by the class after much ambitious campaigning, and the miniature Nightengales soon discovered the mass of duties a collegiate class must attend to and perform. Such vital matters as S.N.A., class dues and gift, the Christmas program and project, the highly respected demerit system, and the spring musical were some of the more popular fields of concern—all executed with loving care to assure perfection of even the most salient points.

When the first, second, and third initial shocks due to first quarter grades had worn off, the class decided to plow a little deeper into the realm of intellectual nourishment. Sparked with fresh determination the "lassies of alleviation" attacked their biology and chemistry. With renewed ardor they poured over histories and the bewildering English language. Every now and then they ate a grilled cheese sandwich and took a nap. And gradually they began to improve; and gradually they gained more self-confidence. They became even more certain of their devotion to the nursing profession.

The freshman nursing class sang and joked and shared together, bound by one common desire—to serve God and mankind with her entire being. No one will deny that this first—and in some ways decisive—year was difficult. The obstacles presented were often more than the scholastic variety, but with faith and patience they were overcome.

Now "Freshman Nursing" awaits her sophomore year. There will be other obstacles and trials to conquer, but already the lamp shines brighter to illumine the way.

THERAPY

Calm patience . . . endurance for repeating the same tasks time and time again . . . these possess the gentle but firm hands which tirelessly work with weakened and deformed bodies and help them to become useful, thus returning useful lives to society.

DEDICATION

ALFRED SZUMSKI, B.S., M.S., P.T.
Assistant Professor of Physical Therapy

We, the senior class of the School of Physical Therapy, wish to dedicate our section of the annual to Mr. Alfred Szumski because of his continued loyalty to the field and because of his high aspiration.

As future physical therapists we are grateful for his patience with us and for his sincere interest in our education.

In the fall of 1958 there came to MCV from far and near a group soon to be known as the P.T.-letts. They came with stars shining in their eyes and visions of helping their fellow men. It wasn't too long, however, before the stars faded and their visions of helping their fellow men took on a more realistic and mature outlook.

This was accomplished only through the careful and no doubt painstaking guidance of a fine faculty. From them they learned not only this 'ology, and that 'ology, and still another; but at the same time, almost without knowing it, the P.T.-letts learned, it is hoped, what it takes to be good physical therapists: "a sense of responsibility to the patient," the proper professional attitudes and conduct, self-discipline, self-understanding, and a multitude of things which cannot be found in books.

From each other and those in other schools they made many friends that will not be soon forgotten. Also they learned and gained much about themselves and those around them.

All this was done to each and every P.T.-lett to a greater or lesser degree, and even though it was anything but painless at times, the experiences, the fine times, and the bad wouldn't be traded for anything.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

When we entered in September of 1959, we were all wide-eyed with curiosity and excitement, for our entire way of life had suddenly changed, and we were at last in Physical Therapy. Being a small class, we were soon a closely integrated group, both with each other and with the things around us.

As each week came and went, there were groans and sighs when we were faced with the fact that all our extra time was filled with Anatomy. Our only consolation was the one hour break for lunch, but then there were days when we didn't even have that!

All of us will remember those Physics labs, with the quizzes at any unlooked moment, usually on a day when we were completely unprepared; the Hydrotherapy classes, where we learned as much about using a mop as we did about treatments; the Patient Care classes, and those inevitable struggles with neatly rolled bandages that would never stay rolled; and the class scrapbook that somehow managed to contain everything imaginable. All of the curricular and extra-curricular activities we have had in the past year will long be remembered and cherished, for there were few in which the entire class did not participate.

Because of her friendly interest in all of us;
Because of her willingness to help us in many ways;
Because of her loyalty to us and to the school of hospital administration,
We dedicate our section of The 1960 X-RAY to

Mrs. Frances Jordan Ewing.

In 1947, the Virginia Hospital Association requested the Medical College of Virginia to establish a course of formal training in the field of Hospital Administration. The advance of health care, and especially the remarkable increase in the number of hospitals in the United States with the corresponding investment of community resources, required a more consistent application of sound business and general management practices. Largely through the untiring efforts of Mr. Charles P. Cardwell, Jr., Director of the Hospital Division of the Medical College of Virginia, the first classes began on January 1, 1950.

In the beginning, the course had two phases consisting of six months intensive classroom work followed by a one year residency in one or more affiliated hospitals where practical experience was gained. Upon successful completion of this program, a certificate in Hospital Administration was awarded.

The course grew in stature and usefulness and was approved in 1952 as a degree course by the Medical College of Virginia Board of Visitors. The school's first director was Dr. Joseph K. Owen, who further enhanced its growth. The current director, Mr. Robert S. Hudgens, has served the field of Hospital Administration long and well, and now lends his knowledge and efforts to the continued progression of the school. At present, the school of Hospital Administration is an accredited graduate school conferring a master of Hospital Administration degree after successful completion of the nine months' academic phase, the writing of an acceptable master's degree thesis, and a twelve months' residency in an approved hospital.

SCHOOL OF HOSPITAL ADMINISTRATION

September 1959 represented the beginning for the Class of '61 in the school of hospital administration. Fifteen students gathered for the first time, together, in the old Newton House and on the face of it one would have certainly been surprised at the heterogeneous nature of these students' educational backgrounds, which varied from biology and business administration majors to an ordained minister. The nine months of the didactic program in this institution has brought to this group a homogeneous nature; we are a class, we are a family, and the relationships shared here will long be remembered after entering the field of hospital administration.

Our education has been clinical rather than academic in nature. We have been exposed to specialists in this field; we have attended clinics, meetings and conferences for the purpose of obtaining practical rather than purely academic knowledge. We, as a class, feel that in the years to come we will remember with grateful acknowledgement the methods utilized in preparing us as hospital administrators.

All has not been work, however; we will long remember social activities here in Richmond as a class, and our convention trips to Old Point Comfort and Roanoke. The social "high-lite" of the year was the week long trip to New York where we combined education with pleasure; undoubtedly we will remember the latter much longer than the former.

The past year has given us our beginning — our beginning together. From here we shall go our separate ways, yet long shall be remembered the days we spent in the school of hospital administration at the Medical College of Virginia.

Rows of test tubes and solutions . . . quiet efficiency . . . seldom thanked . . . Through the work of the medical technologist, physicians are aided in diagnosis and treatment, and thus an invaluable service is given to the patients.

DEDICATION

LENA B. THOMAS, B.S., M.S.
Assistant Professor of Medical Technology

In gratitude, the graduating class of Medical Technology dedicates its portion of The X Ray to our instructor, Lena Thomas, who, with her cheering and comforting smile, has guided us with unending patience and sincere interest.

Trading the bobby socks, skirts and sweaters of previous college days for the white of our chosen profession, the '60 Class of Medical Technology assembled for the first time in September 1959. After introductions of students and faculty, we visited the hospital labs which in March were to become our stamping grounds. The same day lectures began and soon thereafter we fell into the routine of lectures and labs for the first six months of our training. In the lectures we became acquainted with the five thousand new words that Dr. Kupfer promised us. We began abbreviating terms such as EKG, BUN, and CBC that were so confusing to us but so essential to the veterans.

Urinalysis, Hematology, Blood Banking, Serology, Chemistry, Bacteriology, Parasitology, and Pathology, coured by so swiftly that they left our crammed heads swimming. Too soon for some and at last for others November arrived with our first experience at "sticking." The initial step mastered and skill ensuing, we shortly found ourselves in full force carrying out the class motto of "Have needle; will probe."

Following the theme "All work and no play . . .", the class unshouldered the grind stone at intervals and enjoyed Miss "T"'s surprise parties. Best of all was the Christmas party where together with the professors we swang into the gaiety of the season.

After Christmas things happened very fast; our patient instructor, Mrs. Hagy, left us, Dr. Santos and Dr. Hench introduced us to all the "worms" and "bugs" of medicine, and we soon learned the meaning of the 11:55 phone calls which rang "The lab has called . . .!"

Before long our theory was completed and with March 4th's exam thankfully a thing of the past, we began rotating through the labs for the practical part of our training.

June has arrived and again we have changed our attire—this time for the mortar board and baccalaureate black; with degrees in hand, our eyes now turn toward September. To some of us September will mean an additional degree—Mrs.; but for all of us it will mean that we are finally equipped to be a useful part of the medical team.

The Medical College of Virginia Hospital offers a one year course in hospital dietetics to young women who have a B.S. degree from an accredited college or university and who can meet certain specific course requirements. The course is approved by the American Dietetic Association, and upon completion of the course, interns are eligible for membership in the Association, and may hold positions in class "A" hospitals in the capacity of administrative, therapeutic, clinic, or teaching dietitians.

Each September, the course is begun and students live in one of the college dormitories. During training, students receive a mixture of lecture and practical experience in the various departments. Instruction is given under the supervision of graduate dietitians in the Department of Dietetics.

After satisfactory completion of the course, dietetic interns are granted a certificate from the Hospital Division and are eligible for membership in the Medical College of Virginia Alumni Association.

The 1960

The X-ray, the annual publication of the Medical College of Virginia, is printed for you. The goal of this staff is preparing a book which will guide your memories of student days at M.C.V.

There is a uniting of the various schools here at the college as students of these schools work together. Staff members are those who have an interest in producing this publication; an X-ray representative is appointed for each class of each year.

The X-ray is governed by the students through the Board of Publications which elects the Editor-in-Chief and the Business Manager.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Baptist Student Union is a youth organization for Baptist students in institutions of learning. Under the leadership of Miss Marie Claypool, it provides a full, well-rounded program of social and religious activities. The main purpose of the Baptist Student Union is to lead students into active church membership through Christian worship and fellowship in the B.S.U.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

The Wesley Foundation is the Methodist Church at work on the campus at M.C.V. Nationally organized, it endeavors to provide for the spiritual and social needs of students. Rev. Don Stanton is the leader of this group.

TEUSLER FELLOWSHIP

Directed by Rev. A. Ronald Merrix, the Teusler Fellowship, an organization especially for Episcopal students but open to every M.C.V. student, meets for relaxation and spiritual contemplation. Many of the discussions are concerning the vital relationship of the various professions represented to a Christian way of life.

LAENNEC SOCIETY

The Laennec Society is named for Rene Laennec, inventor of the stethoscope and the man who gave classic descriptions of many intrathoracic diseases. This society was founded as an organization to bring together Catholic students, interns, and residents for discussion of the moral and spiritual aspects of practice in medicine and allied fields.

WESTMINISTER FELLOWSHIP

To Presbyterians at M.C.V. the Westminster Fellowship provides worship, fun, and fellowship. Meetings each Tuesday night under the direction of Mr. Ed Stock, a student at Union Theological Seminary, helps strengthen faith and helps students to live as Christians in all areas of life.

CAMPUS VESPERS

CAMPUS VESPERS, held on Tuesdays through the school year at 6:30 p.m. in Richmond's historic Monumental Church, on the edge of MCV's campus, has been well-attended by students since its inauguration last October. Outstanding speakers, with a message for students today, have been heard, and met after the services for informal discussions. The chief attraction is the reverent service of worship itself.

The Medical College of Virginia branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, with directors and a paid secretary, was organized in 1916. Mr. Mimms Lee, who was then State Y. M. C. A. secretary, was very influential in helping a group to get it started. The following have served as MCV secretaries: Mr. Phil B. Trigg, Mr. Walter C. Gralle, and Mr. Earl T. Sullenger. In September, 1923, Mr. Jonah L. Larrick was appointed.

Jonah Lupton Larrick, often called "Father Larrick", retired as executive secretary of the Medical College of Virginia branch of the YMCA in June of 1959 after 36 years of valuable service. Through the years he has combined the duties of a father confessor and a dean of students and probably knows more students personally than anyone else on the campus. He has always been willing to lend a strong hand of helpfulness by understanding students' strengths as well as their weaknesses, and knowing their aspirations, their compromises, and their failures. Mr. Larrick, through his sincere and selfless interest in others, has greatly enriched the lives of many people, young and old.

STUDENT NURSES ASSOCIATION

M.C.V. nursing students are active members of District III Student Nurses Association of Virginia. The NSNA, organized in 1953, is a national organization with state and district divisions. District III with 255 members from the seven schools of nursing in Richmond and Petersburg is only a small part of the 80,610 members of the National Association. It is the aim of this organization to aid in the development of student nurses as democratic citizens, to provide an opportunity for self-expression, and to stimulate an understanding of and interest in the programs of the graduate professional organizations. We are proud to have two of our members as officers of District III for 1960. They are Sarah Easley, President, and Byrd Barkley, Nominating Committee Chairman.

STUDENT AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION MCV CHAPTER

The Medical College of Virginia Chapter of the Student American Medical Association was formed in 1952. This young club has rapidly taken its place among the organizations of the school.

Our objectives are to advance the profession of medicine, to contribute to the welfare and education of medical students on this campus and to strengthen the bond between the students of the Medical College of Virginia and other medical schools, to familiarize our members with the purposes and ideals of organized medicine, and to prepare them to meet the social, moral and ethical obligations of the profession of medicine.

VIRGINIA PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION

The Student Branch of the Virginia Pharmaceutical Association is one of the youngest and fastest growing organizations at the Medical College of Virginia. Having been organized by the pharmacy students themselves in 1955, it is commendable that today it is one of the larger organizations in our school.

The student branch has many informal discussions each year, led by professional men from all fields, who can help the beginning pharmacist meet his problems. We hope through this cooperation, and with the help of the parent organization, we may make a better future for Pharmacy.

Alph Sigma Chi is an honorary society founded at the Medical College of Virginia in 1938. Its prime purpose is to serve the college and student body by providing an organization with lofty ideals entirely above smallness, politics, or personal favoritism and to create a spirit of fellowship and co-operation among the four schools.

Members are chosen from the Schools of Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, and Nursing. Those chosen must meet high standards of leadership, scholarship, and character and demonstrate ability and willingness to carry on student activities.

An honorary member is chosen annually from among the faculty.

ALPHA OMEGA ALPHA

Alpha Omega Alpha, Honorary Medical Society, was founded in 1902 by William W. Root at the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois. The Beta Chapter of Virginia, known as the Brown-Sequard Chapter, was organized at the Medical College of Virginia in 1940 under the counselorship of Dr. William B. Porter.

Selection to membership is based upon the qualities of scholarship in the broad sense, which connotes continuous industry, effectiveness in method of work, facility in correlating facts, and an intellectual grasp that permits the application of information to new problems.

FRATERNITIES

Brotherhood is the possession of the men who have the privilege of membership in fraternities. May this section be reminiscent of happy hours as well as serious ones shared in friendships which will be life-long.

Phi Chi National Medical Fraternity was founded at the University of Vermont in 1889. The Theta Eta Chapter was established at the Medical College of Virginia in March, 1889. Phi Chi is the largest national and international medical fraternity, both in number of chapters and total membership.

PHI DELTA CHI, National Pharmacy Fraternity, was founded at the University of Michigan in 1883. Alpha Delta Chapter was established at the Medical College of Virginia in 1925 and was active until 1934. It was reactivated in the fall of 1948, and since that time has functioned with increasing strength.

Throughout the United States there are thirty-six chapters and twenty-eight alumni chapters.

It was one of the fraternities which aided in founding the Professional Interfraternity Conference.

ALPHA ZETA OMEGA, National Pharmaceutical Fraternity, was founded at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science in 1919. The local chapter, Omega Chi, was organized at the Medical College of Virginia in 1951.

"Having discovered that through intimate association with one another, and by practice of the virtues of mutual trust, sympathy, faithfulness, and unselfishness, we have been able to advance our profession, exalt our alma mater, and build strongly our individual characters, and being desirous of maintaining and expanding that principle of association and friendship and co-operation, Alpha Zeta Omega was founded."

Alpha Epsilon Iota is the only national women's medical sorority. It was founded in 1890 at the University of Michigan. Pi Chapter, the chapter at M.C.V., was formed in 1923 and was the sixteenth chapter to be organized. Its aims are to promote high standards of scholarship among women, to maintain a spirit of cooperation among women medical students, and to help all women enjoy a richer life.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

BOB LINCOLN, President

RALPH GIBSON, Vice-President

ANNE BROADBUS, Secretary

The Athletic Association was organized in 1923, and now provides activities for all of the schools of MCV. The aim of the Athletic Association is to create a means of relaxation, exercise and diversion, and to supply the spirit of competition which accompanies any sports event. A complete schedule of intercollegiate play is maintained for men's basketball and softball, and girls' basketball. The Athletic Association also supervises intramural basketball, softball, and ping-pong.

In 1921, Dr. William H. Parker became Graduate Manager and under his able leadership and guidance the Association has made continual progress. Much of the success attained during the past thirty-six years must be attributed to the efforts of an enthusiastic leader and friend, Jonah L. Larrick, who has worked tirelessly in student interests of all types.

The MCV girls basketball team had a very successful season. The spirit and fight of the team members led them to nine victories out of the twelve games played. The teams in the league consisted of four of the nursing schools; Grace, Johnston-Willis, St. Lukes, and MCV.

Although the dates of the games conflicted with studying for exams, writing papers for class, and what have you, there were always enough members to play.

The coach Pete Kostel and manager Jessie Ryder spent much of their time getting the team organized and in playing condition. Their efforts paid off.

The season ended with a delicious steak dinner, trophy presentations, and entertainment enjoyed by all the teams in the Richmond leagues.

THE INTERNAL CLOCK

The ability to judge intervals of time is a basic mental function. In order to learn how drugs affect this "internal clock," SK&F scientists use a test in which a monkey must hit a lever after an interval of 20 seconds to obtain food.

When he is under the influence of certain drugs, "time flies" and he misses the pay-off period by hitting the lever too late. Other drugs make "time drag" and he misses the pay-off period by hitting the lever too soon.

Because one of the characteristics of many mental disorders is a distortion of the time sense, observing how drugs affect this primary psychological process may reveal valuable information that will help SK&F scientists in discovering effective treatments for mental illness.
